Marin Republican Women, Federated

President's Report

We have had a busy March 2017 with the activities being done by our 'target action groups'. Of note is our Huffman group which attended three of the Congressman's town halls in Marin. We found that we can be more effective outside the meeting holding signs. Two of our demonstrating members got TV face time and radio news sound bites broadcast across the San Francisco Bay area.

Now, let's do something fun in April 2017. Our annual fundraiser promises to be great fun for us and we will be creating a great benefit for the local non-profit we have chosen, St. Vincent School for Boys Residential Homes Improvement Project.

Make your reservations now, in the first week of April, so that you are sure to get seated. We already have tables-of-8 reserved, so early reservations are the best idea especially if you are bringing guests or want to sit with specific people. And please share this fun and worthy event with friends and family. We would love to meet them.

Be prepared to bid on terrific items that have been donated by our members and local businesses. You will especially want to figure out how you will put together a bid on our "lead" donation. So organize a group of 4 people (family, friends and business associates) so that you can bid against me for this lead item. Here it is:

SF Giants Tickets – 4 tickets – July 24, 2017 at 7:30 pm - in lower box seats behind the Giants dugout - includes parking. Value: $350

And, of course, the minimum bid will start much lower than that; but you should be prepared to compete on the bidding for this item and many more listed on Page 3.

Faye Bourret, President

Membership Matters

We have 6 new members since our last newsletter and we want to welcome Laura Abramson, Mary Ann Haeuser, Carolyn Klenk, Joan Livingston, Kaitlyn Lydell and Sarah Nagle. Welcome to new Associate members Wendy and Gary Hromada and Melissa Bradley. We are delighted to have you join our club!

We currently have 92 regular members and are at 84% of last year's membership. We have exceeded last year's Associate memberships of 41 with 45 Associates. Let's get to 100% of regular membership by sending in your dues as soon as possible. Regular membership is $30 and Associate (men, non-citizens and members of other Republican Women Federated Clubs) is $25. You can send cash, check or credit card information to me at 20 Via San Fernando, Tiburon, CA 94920. There is a membership form on Page 7 of this newsletter. Before long it will be time to start our 2017-18 roster and we would like to have all members listed.

We are continuing our New Member contest. The member who brings in the most new members (they must join) is eligible to win at the end of the year. Congratulations to Bonnie Stevens for winning the 2016 contest.

Any questions, please call me at 415-789-5022 or email me at grsbck@icloud.com

APRIL – Renewing the American Dream

"In everything we do - in every policy we propose - we need to renew the American Idea. Conservatism in our nation is not about the past. It's not a misty-eyed nostalgia for a world that's come and gone. And it's not a skittish disposition to tinker around the edges. Nor is American conservatism about blind opposition to government. For sure, government today is too big, bureaucratic, inefficient, and unaccountable. But we must not jettison the very rule of law that shields our liberty. No, American conservatism is about conserving something - principles that are timeless because they are true - to be renewed and applied in our time.

So how should American conservatives proceed? We must begin by recognizing practical reality, but at the same time move - sometimes coaxing, sometimes pushing - toward the enduring principles to which we are dedicated. Maneuvering in the sea of politics, we will sometimes be forced to tack - but must always be guided by and steer toward our fixed North Star."

Community Projects Reports

Your helping hands and talents are needed for all the MRWF activities. Get on the lists; call the project chair listed.

VETERANS

The San Francisco VA Hospital is happily accepting lap blankets, books, DVDs, and new lap blankets, socks, shoes, and other clothing, especially warm stuff. Please, no used clothing due to a problem with bedbugs!

The Veterans Home in Yountville seeks playing cards, puzzles, puzzle books, handkerchiefs, ball caps, and non-perishable snack foods like chips, soup cups, Vienna sausages, candy, and popcorn.

Both facilities can always use stamps, stationery, and toiletry items, especially hotel freebies.

Donations can be brought to any of our meetings and are tax-deductible if you include your name and address with the items. Pick-ups outside of meetings can also be arranged. Questions? Please call Anne at 415-302-0330.

Anne Brenneis, Veterans Project

VOTER REGISTRATION

As usual, there are some reliable members who are willing to be seen in public to support our Republican Party and MRWF. And then there are those of you that have not had the fun experience of astonished faces and covert thumbs up as we sit at our Voter Registration table. The goal is to register voters, hopefully Republican. The reality is that we are proving that there is a women's Republican presence in Marin and that we are wonderful gals who support smaller government and less Big Brother in our lives.

Come on out ladies and have some fun with us. Saturdays, April 22 and 29, 11:00 am to 5:00 pm, The Village Shopping Center, Corte Madera. Call me to see if there are any spots left. 415-381-6543.

Elise Vitale, Voter Registration Chair

MRWF SATELLITE CLUB

You just have to love the Spring! We had a great turnout at our event at the Peace Lutheran Church in Mill Valley. Everyone was in a great mood looking forward to this new year with all the many hopes many of us have for it. Laureen and Mark Schneeberger were very generous to host the event. We thank them for their gracious hospitality.

I was pleased to host the February get-together and was very happy to see so many of you show up. While our turnout is very good so far this year, we are always looking for new friends to join us in our "right-thinking" and welcoming Satellite events. Please think of folks you know who would like to join in.

Save-the-Date May 9, 2017, Tuesday evening. Your RSVP is needed on this one to Events@mrwf.org.

Heads up! How about having a special Satellite event? "Celebrate President Trump's 100 days + 10". Yes, we have it booked and it will be May 9, 2017, a Tuesday evening cocktail party, 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm at the Club Restaurant at McInnis. We have some fun things planned and hors d'oeuvres will be served. Cost $22/person. This is an historical marker of the Trump Effect, an opportunity we could not pass up for a celebration. Invite all your friends, families, and deplorables. It is in lieu of our normal end-of-April Friday evening Satellite.

Jane Maushardt, Satellite Club Chair

Marin Republican Women, Federated

Legislative Report

By Andrea Widburg, MRWF Legislative Chair

Date: 03/27/17

Congress has passed three bills to date, two of which involved promoting women in the sciences and business. Perhaps these bills were a sop to the Women's March because they are inconsistent with conservative governance. Other than that, Congress has been busy proposing, but not disposing.

Although the Senate and House have not yet come together to pass any new laws, they are laying the groundwork for doing so. Perhaps by the time this newsletter is published, Republican plans to repeal Obamacare will have reached fruition. A savvy friend believes, however, that President Trump will let Congress play for a few months and then force a deal by July 31.

To date, most of Congress's actions involve local boondoggles, adjustments to existing laws, or meaningless feel-good initiatives. Still, there are a handful of proposed bills that could result in new laws that would stop using federal money to fund abortions; put federal lands for sale on the open market to help reduce the debt; improve the VA's ability to provide care for America's veterans; increase America's defensive capabilities against terrorism; clean up procedural abuses in the federal court system; and - a small but helpful initiative - require callers to display accurate information on Caller ID.

Congress has yet to take action on President Trump's proposed budget. However, it is reasonable to believe that, by the time Congress has finished, the cuts the President has proposed will have magically morphed into massive new expenditures and increased federal debt. Big Bird will rise again.

Meanwhile, in California, the Assembly is contemplating requiring that California get 100% of its electricity from renewable energy by 2045; having single payer healthcare in California that would cover illegal aliens as well as legal residents; figuring out how to have taxpayers make California's public colleges more affordable, or even free; and reducing taxes on tampons ("gender justice," although we are also being assured that, in a gender fluid world, men can need tampons too). In other words, the California Assembly continues to view its productive residents as unending sources of funds for the Progressive dream factory.

#CADeservesBetter - Using Social Media for Advocating

We want to work with the California Republican Party and our Republican Caucuses in the legislature to advance our conservative message through social media. Our Republicans in Sacramento are working hard to earn media and reach voters in creative ways. Being in the "super-minority" makes getting our message out to Californians harder, but if we work together, we can win the hearts and minds of voters.

Hashtags are a good way to increase visibility for an issue. Use #CADeservesBetter on Twitter and social media when referencing our failing transportation infrastructure, our lack of coherent education policy, or our skyrocketing home prices . . .

Similarly, the Assembly Republican Caucus has released "Capitol Madness", in the spirit the NCAA March Madness basketball tournament, it highlights the 32 worst Democrat bills cycling through the CA Capitol this session. Below is their press release and their links to Facebook and Twitter!

Assembly Republicans Release "Capitol Madness" Bracket Highlighting 2017's Worst Bills.

SACRAMENTO – Today, Assembly Republicans released the "Capitol Madness" bracket of the 32 wildest bills introduced in 2017. From wholly unnecessary to downright dangerous, the bills in this tournament all have one thing in common: they're not the slam dunk that Californians deserve.

Follow along as bad bills go head-to-head on the "Road to the Flagrant Four." Once the field has been narrowed, fans will have the opportunity to vote online for their pick to win the "Pelosi Cup."

The tournament has four "regional" brackets, with bills assigned according to the main reason they are an air-ball for California. The regions are:

Hurting Californians – From worsening the housing crisis to making a commute more expensive, these bills are guaranteed bracket-busters for ordinary Californians.

Who Pays for This? – Californians are being fouled with the highest taxes in the country – are these ideas really a good use of their hard-earned money?

The Swamp – The special interests pushing these bills are so powerful they'd be a favorite in any tournament.

... Why? – California's facing serious issues. So why are Capitol Democrats doing the "Big Dance" around housing and transportation to push these do-nothing proposals?

The terrible bills highlighted in the "Capitol Madness" tournament include strong contenders like the proposal to divert much needed road money to social justice programs (AB 1640). Meanwhile, a bill to allow bicycles to occupy a full lane of vehicle traffic (AB 694) has "Cinderella Story" written all over it.

MRWF's Capitol Muse

By Edwina Burke

Date: 03/27/17

Recently some conservative students (there must be one or two!) at Middlebury College prevailed upon a faculty member named Allison Stanger to invite the estimable Charles Murray, author of "The Bell Curve" and a half-dozen other works of towering scholarship, to speak on campus. Murray's acceptance of this invitation plunged him head-first into the bonfire of political correctness that has all but consumed modern American academe: Screaming protesters hijacked his event; overwhelmed and silenced Murray; drove him from the auditorium to a secure satellite location from whence he lectured via closed-circuit TV; impeded his and Ms. Stanger's departure therefrom roughly enough that she was whiplashed and concussed; and so disrupted their attempt to dine at a local restaurant that they had literally to leave town in order to sit down and eat.

Attentive observers recognize this disturbing event as quite mundane. But the contrast between Murray's intellectual stature and the students' Hobbesian behavior was sufficiently stark to shock the conscience even of liberal pundits, several of whom penned elite-y columns 'splaining things to us commoners. Of them, Ms. Stanger's own column affords the keenest insight into how the liberal mind makes sense of political hysteria in this Era of Donald Trump.

In "Understanding the Angry Mob That Gave me a Concussion," Ms. Stanger reveals what the event "made clear" - at least to her: "...Americans today are deeply susceptible to a renunciation of reason and celebration of ignorance. They know what they know without reading, discussing or engaging those who might disagree with them. People ... reject calm logic, eager to embrace the alternative news that supports their prejudices."

OK. But then, in a dazzling polemic reversal, Ms. Stanger concludes that the root cause of the protesters' criminal behavior was Donald Trump. Trump! Who, by an "ugly campaign and... presidency" has "demonized Muslims as terrorists and dehumanized many groups of marginalized people...declared the free press an enemy of the people, replaced deliberation with tweeting, and is bent on dismantling the separation of powers and 230 years of progress this country has made toward a more perfect union."

The dispassionate observer must construe Stanger's analysis in one of only two ways: Either (a) the lady is willfully blind to the fact that her charges against Trump perfectly reflect the very "renunciation of reason" and rejection of "calm logic" that she decries; or (b) the concussion has damaged her brain.

The former alternative seems more plausible.

Scholarships and Internships

To involve more young women in the political process and to provide educational opportunities, the National Federation of Republican Women offers several scholarships and internships to female students. To apply, please download the applications from <http://www.nfrw.org/programs/scholarships.htm> or send a self-addressed stamped envelope to NFRW headquarters, Attn: Scholarships and Internships, 124 N. Alfred St., Alexandria, VA 22314.

The Dorothy Andrews Kabis Memorial Internship gives female undergraduates the opportunity to spend part of the summer working at national headquarters in Alexandria, VA. Applicants must be at least a junior in college or a college student 21 years or older with a general knowledge of government, a keen interest in politics, campaign experience and sufficient clerical office skills. Deadline November 1, 2017.

The National Pathfinder Scholarship offers three annual scholarships of $2500 to provide financial assistance and support to women seeking undergraduate or graduate degrees. Undergraduate sophomores, juniors and seniors, as well as students enrolled in a master's degree program are eligible to apply. Deadline May 15, 2017

The Betty Rendel Scholarship offers three annual scholarships of $1000 awarded to female undergraduates who are majoring in political science, government or economics and who have successfully completed at least two years of college coursework. Deadline May 15, 2017.

CFRW Scholarships

The Ronald Reagan Scholarship offers an annual $3000 to an undergraduate registered Republican woman who is majoring in political science, communications, or directed toward law. She must be a US citizen, resident of California and have completed two years of college. Deadline: August 15, 2017. Go to the California Federation of Republican Women web-site and Scholarships for specific application instructions.

Questions or know an interested student who would like to apply, please contact Faye Bourret at president@mrwf.org
