Luncheon Meeting, Wednesday, Sept. 23rd

The Club Restaurant at McInnis Park, 350 Smith Ranch Road, San Rafael
11:30 am – 1:00 pm

For our MRWF SPEAKER SERIES 2026 we have 3 events on the schedule.

We are delighted to provide great access to provocative conservative speakers!
Turn to 6 to see the upcoming list by month/date.

Speaker: Orlean Koehle - Author, Educator, President - California Eagle Forum
Topic: "Islam – a Political Ideology Aimed at Takeover of Your Town"

She is a prolific Author and a consummate Teacher. We asked who can give us current and key insight into the topic of Islam and the spread of this political movement in to our communities? The answer is Orlean Koehle.

Orlean Koehle has published her new book "The Islamic Threats to our Nation - Similar to Those in Europe."

In her examination, Orlean points out five key threats to our American philosophy of governance. She writes: "My last big threat is what is happening politically as Muslims try to take over and run for office first locally and then state wide and then run for congress or for the presidency. Their religion and politics is very far left, they work well with communism, because they believe in absolute, total control. I also tell how opposite from the Constitution Sharia law is."

Orlean Koehle and her husband raised six children. She returned to her love of teaching in Sonoma County, California, which she did from 1992 until 2010 when she retired to have more time to write and speak about her books. Her husband is an administrator at Sonoma State University, and they live on acreage outside of Santa Rosa.

Orlean has served as a leader in several state and national organizations: such as Boy Scouts of America, President of Concerned Citizens of Sonoma County, Parents Involved in Education, Sonoma County and California State Eagle Forum and Santa Rosa Republican Women Federated.

Presidents' Report

The Election is upon us! November 3, 2026 is the mid-terms General Election in California.

October 6, 2026 is the date that the Vote Center at Marin Civic Center is open and ready to have voters cast their ballots!

What are we focused on this fall season, we, the Marin Republican Women Federated Members?

The fact that we are Members of this group suggests that we have a keen interest in current events as well as who we have in governing positions and who we will put in governing positions this coming General Election on November 3, 2026.

You are a person of action, so take the action to make happen what you want to happen.

There is plenty of opportunity locally to take action:

Your favored candidates need you to get out the vote.

That means signing up to make phone calls, write postcards, address and stuff envelopes for mailing. It also means talking to your neighbors and friends about candidates and which local Measures (taxes) to vote on. The Marin IJ article describing the local Measures is Attached to the Newsletter email you receive. It seems that the Marin voters have never seen a tax Measure that they will not vote to approve. To fight this, each citizen must work hard.

Membership Report

Welcome back from your summer vacations. Now is the second half of our MRWF year, and it is a busy one.

We have 5 scheduled MRWF events coming your way. And it is a big Election year so heads-up! Get on the Volunteer lists to work the Election. We are the 'Doers'. If not us, then Who? What to do:

- Write postcards to Voters for our local candidates. Address envelopes. Contact MarinGOP at www.maringop.org.
- Sign up to be an Election Observer at the Civic Center Vote Center which opens on October 5th. Contact Faye Bourret at President@marinrepublicanwomen.com.
- Call our local Marin candidates and volunteer. Visit their websites. See the list and links on Page 5. While you are doing your part in this Election, be on the lookout to meet like-minded Marin women whom you can invite to become members of our Marin Republican Women, Federated.

Americanism

The Longest-Living Constitution*

The U.S. Constitution is considered the world's longest-surviving written charter of government — and, “one of the most enduring and consequential documents in history.”

The framers of the Constitution were attempting a momentous feat, an experiment in self-governance on a grand scale. For more than two millennia, kings and queens had ruled nations almost exclusively. The framers' task required them to completely overturn 2,000 years of thinking about political science. They saw a republic as a country without a king — a nation that respects the rule of law and believes government is ultimately responsible to its citizenry — not the other way around.

Constitutional scholars attribute two principal reasons for the framers' success: 1) our system of checks and balances preventing any one branch from becoming intolerable and unrestrained. 2) Federalism: governing powers divided between national government and the states. The result was a check on the federal government's power.

Likewise, the peaceful transfer of power provided by the Constitution, beginning with George Washington, remains unbroken to this day. During the 2020 election, President Donald Trump used every legal lever possible to challenge the results. When every avenue available under the Constitution was exhausted, Trump peacefully departed the White House, and Joe Biden was sworn in as the next president.

Constitution Day recognizes the signing of the U.S. Constitution every September 17. Let's celebrate.

-- Summarized from Real Clear Politics' special series: “America Turns 250.” (May 11, 2026)

MRWF Satellite Club – Conservative Conversations, Cocktails, and Comestibles

The summer is fast coming to an end and we all have to think about our upcoming elections this fall. We have to hope that Steve Hilton has a chance to turn our state around.

We are having our first Satellite launch on September 11th at Jeanine Rossi's home. We cannot do it the first weekend of September because that is Labor Day weekend. So please mark your calendar and come between 6pm and 9pm on that Friday. Bring something to share that we can all enjoy eating and a beverage of your choice.

We will have stories to share from our summer and will be able to discuss our frustrations and all of the disturbing things happening in our country . . . and the good things happening too. Who has the answer to how some of our fellow Americans think the way they do? It is all quite a challenge! And we have an important Election coming up.

Hope to see you on September 11th. It will be a great time to share ideas and catch up with each other.

Legislative Report

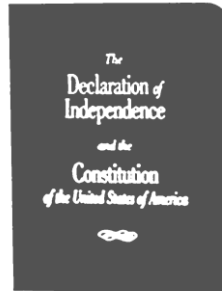

By Ruth Holly – MRWF Legislative reporter

Tire regulation. The 1969 Santa Barbara oil spill and the 1974 Arab Oil Embargo helped spur interest in alternative fuels and in increased regulation of energy production and use. In 1974 Governor Ronald Reagan signed into law the Warren–Alquist State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Act which created the agency which is now known as the California Energy Commission. The commission regulates power companies which must seek approval prior to building or modifying power plants. The commission decides if the plant or its modifications are needed and if the building site is suitable. The five commissioners are appointed by the governor and approved by the senate. The commission's role expanded to include setting state appliance energy and water efficiency standards. They can be blamed for low flow toilets and poorer performing but more energy and water "efficient" household appliances.

The California Energy Commission is the first in the nation but not the world to regulate the energy efficiency of car and light truck tires. Europe has already implemented car tire efficiency rules. AB 844, passed in 2003, requires that replacement tires be at least as energy efficient as new vehicle tires. The Federal government regulates the energy efficiency of cars and manufacturers use energy efficient tires to help them successfully comply. The commission paid for an independent study of new vehicle tires to help them set the California standard. An energy efficient tire has a lower rolling resistance. Rolling resistance increases friction and requires increased engine energy to overcome. Rolling resistance is reduced when tires are properly inflated and aligned, and when roadways are smooth. Tires with lower rolling resistance generally are made of more rigid newer materials which may sacrifice riding comfort but are quieter. Tire wet grip generally inversely correlates with energy efficiency except in ultra-high-performance tires. The commission is requiring the minimum legal wet grip UTQG traction index of 1 or greater. The safest tires for use during wet weather have much higher UTQG traction indexes and are given letter grades such as AA or A. The commission states that the new regulations will not decrease tire treadwear or lifespan of the tires. Replacement tires must have a maximum resistance of 9.1 starting in 2029 decreasing to 7.2 in 2033. The commission states this will minimally increase the cost of new tires and save consumer fuel and electricity costs. 70% of tires currently sold in California do not meet the 2033 standard. A Goodyear spokesman says the law will decrease consumer choice and significantly raise tire prices. Small tire replacement businesses that specialize in inexpensive tires on slim margins may no longer be able to compete. There are carve outs for specialty tires including those for use in the winter and those used by off-road and emergency vehicles.
